Will Ask Congress For Asian Aid, Dulles

Hope To Curb Communist Expansion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said Tuesday the Eisenhower administration expects to ask Congress to approve a broad program of economic aid to Asia as a bulwark against Communist expansion.

He made that announcement at a news conference at which he also commented that fear of open war has lessened and that both sides can perhaps give more thought to economic competition.

He mentioned no figures and did not say whether loans or gifts would be involved, but other officials have talked of a program in which loans would play a major part. These also have been expressions of hope that allied nations, such as Britain and France, would bear a substantial part of the burden.

Dulles did say, in response to questions, that it was likely that a program of government aid, to be backed up by simultaneous help from private capital, would be sought when Congress reconvenes in January. He said President Eisenhower has approved this principle.

In New Orleans Tuesday, Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said President Eisenhower would have "a damn hard battle" to get the money for foreign aid programs in the Democratic-controlled session of Congress in January.

Ellender, slated for chairmanship of the Senate Agricultural Committee, made the comment in an interview with the New Orleans States.

Ellender said foreign expenditures are going to take a back seat to domestic problems.

On other points, Dulles told newsmen:

1. The United States is leaving to the United Nations the question of how to seek freedom for 11 U.S. airmen captured the Korean War, and sentenced by Red China last month to long imprisonment.
2. With Britain and France, the United States will attempt to recapture the days when their ambassadors at Moscow could talk informally with high Soviet officials. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, returning Wednesday to Moscow, has authority to seek improvement in diplomatic relations with the Soviet government.
3. The political overthrow of Japanese Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida would have no particular effect on U.S.-Japanese relations since basically the friendship of the two countries rests on fundamental considerations of mutual welfare which have nothing to do with personalities.

Stevenson Visits Site Of Proposed Dixon-Yates Plant

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson learned something new Tuesday about the controversial Dixon-Yates plant—the proposed site has been changed.

West Memphis Mayor H. B. Price told the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee that the plant will be built on the west side of a Mississippi River levee and several hundred yards to the north.

This would place the levee between the proposed plant and the river. The old site was on the east side of the levee.

Stevenson, who visited the site Tuesday, told newsmen he could not comment on the feasibility of either site since it was an engineering problem involving technical information he did not have.

Price said the new plant site is back of the levee and hasn't been flooded since the levee was built.

Stevenson came over from Memphis where he is visiting.

Backers of the Tennessee Valley Authority have attacked the Dixon-Yates contract as an attempt to cripple TVA.

Talk Of Communist Trade Union's Right To Strike Is Travesty

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Foreign News Analyst

Communist trade union chiefs, meeting in Warsaw, are going to demand the right to strike. They are not reforming. There's still no right to strike in Communist countries. They are talking only about capitalist nations.

The General Council of the World Federation of Trade Unions, a tool of Moscow's propaganda and policies, is in session in Communist-ruled Poland. The Council professes to be deeply concerned with the woes of labor. The announced aim of the meeting is to draw up a "charter of trade union rights"—but only for unions in non-Communist lands.

The Soviet "trade union" newspaper Trud says the draft charter will demand, for example, "the right of all trade unions to carry out their functions without interference or control on the part of administrative authorities or employers."

(In Communist countries, the trade union is an organ of the government, owned by it and directed by it, subject wholly to its orders.)

Trud went on: The charter would demand "the right of trade unions to negotiate and sign collective agreements satisfying the interests of the workers."

(In Communist countries, including the U.S.S.R., the government submits the "agreement to the union.")

The charter, said Trud, will demand the right for all workers to strike "in all forms without any restrictions, and the forbidding of any measures directed against a worker in punishment for the exercising of his right to strike."

(A strike in a Communist country is an act of sabotage against the government, punishable by the most severe of sentences. Attempts at strikes in Communist countries are put down by troops.)

The charter, said Trud, will demand "the right of trade unions to participate in the determination of social and economic policies and in making of laws directly or indirectly affecting the workers."

(In Communist countries, there are laws which send workers to prison or "corrective labor" for such things as "unwarranted absence," lateness to work, unauthorized changing of jobs and similar offenses. The law in a Communist country is a Communist law.)

U.S. Economists Predict Lower Prices, Higher Profits In '55

WASHINGTON (AP)—The year 1955 should please almost everybody, if administration economists are right. They say prices are due to go down and profits up.

Giving their appraisal of the economic outlook in interviews, they forecast a slow but fairly steady downturn of retail prices during much if not all of the coming year.

They predicted that the consumer may find that his income dollar has gained 2 to 2½ cents in buying power a year from now.

Nevertheless businessmen can expect a moderate rise in profits, reversing the 1954 trend of lowered corporation earnings, said officials in close touch with business conditions.

In fact, almost everyone except the farmer seems to be a potential gainer in 1955. Farm prices will decline slightly, the Agriculture Department has predicted officially, but farmers' costs are expected to drop also. So the Department thinks the farmer's real income should be well sustained.

Some major unions, sharing the official view that living costs will come down, are scrapping the escalator clauses in their wage contracts, to avoid losing a portion of the pay boosts that came along automatically when prices were inflating.

Falling food prices were the biggest factor in three slight successive monthly declines this fall in the Labor Department's consumer price index.

Food is expected to be the big item in the 1955 decline as well, officials said, but household appliances and furnishings also may drop somewhat. Clothing prices are expected to be steady. Rents and utilities may creep up a little higher, but more slowly.

The monthly average declines will be slight, it is predicted—probably averaging around a fifth of 1 per cent a month.

This would still leave prices high. The consumer price index in October stood at 114.5 per cent of the 1947-9 average, or less than 1 per cent below the all-time peak in October 1953, when the index hit 115.4.

Discover Cache Of Stolen Goods Near Bartonville

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Discovery of a large garage described as "a warehouse well stocked with stolen goods" and seizure of three men allegedly connected with theft ring operations was announced Tuesday by Fred W. Montgomery, Peoria County sheriff.

Montgomery said his deputies took possession of the garage at Broadmoor Heights near Bartonville and seized Marvin Lambert, 25, of Broadmoor Heights. He said the contents were worth $8,000 to $10,000.

In the garage, the sheriff said, were a number of boats stolen at Madison and Middleton, Wis., electric toasters, mixers, clocks and other appliances as well as lumber and jewelry taken in Illinois burglaries.

Montgomery said Lambert had been associated in the stolen goods traffic with Maynard Harding, 24, and Leland E. Hoadley, 24, both of Kewanee. He said all three were held without charge for further questioning after making oral admissions of their illegal actions.

X-Ray Technician Testifies In Sheppard Defense

CLEVELAND (AP)—A blonde X-ray technician testified Tuesday that Dr. Samuel Sheppard—while doped, dazed and semi-coherent—stuck to his story that a stranger killed his wife.

The 30-year-old osteopath is on trial for his life in the July 4 murder of his pregnant, 31-year-old wife, Marilyn. He claims a marauder killed her.

The technician, Mrs. Eileen Hulse, a plump little woman in a white uniform, described how Dr. Sheppard was brought into her X-ray room at the family osteopathic hospital shortly after Marilyn's slaying. He had just been given a morphine derivative.

"He was never talking to anyone," Mrs. Hulse testified. "He was talking to the room. He was mumbling and moaning. He said, 'I heard Marilyn scream and I tried to get to her. Things like this don't happen. This couldn't have happened.'"

"He said, 'I thought I saw someone on the beach. Someone hit me from behind.'"

Sheppard contends the straffer beat him unconscious when he tried to aid his wife, then knocked him out a second time on the Lake Erie beach outside the home and left him with his feet in the water and his head on the sand.

Jury Convicts Dale, Bateman Of Racketeering

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Evan R. Dale, boss of 36,000 AFL laborers in southern Illinois, and another union official were convicted by a U. S. District Court jury Tuesday of labor racketeering.

Dale and James Bateman each were convicted on two counts of attempting to extort $1,030,000 from a contractor building a 197 million dollar power generating plant at Joppla, Ill.

Dale, president of the Southern Illinois District Council of the AFL Laborers Union, was convicted on a third count of extorting $7,500 from a subcontractor on the project, which is to supply power to an Atomic Energy Commission plant near Paducah, Ky.

Federal Judge Fred L. Wham set Dec. 17 for arguments on motions for a new trial, which defenses attorneys said would be filed. Sentencing was set for Dec. 21 and the two men will remain free under bond until that date.

Labor Secretary Backs Compulsory Union Membership

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell Tuesday defended the idea of compulsory union membership and condemned state laws which prohibit such requirements in labor contracts.

"I believe that when employers and unions representing a majority of their employees agree on 'union shop' they should have the right to have one," Mitchell told applauding delegates to the CIO convention.

Under a "union shop" all workers must become union members to keep their jobs. The Taft-Hartley Law permits this but allows individual states to prohibit it. Seventeen states, mostly in the South and West, have such "right-to-work" laws and moves to enact them are underway in other states.

Humphrey Defends GOP Monetary Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said Tuesday he sees no need for any drastic action to bolster the nation's economy.

"There is nothing in the present situation that would lead me to believe that we should do anything drastic at the present time," he told the Senate-House Subcommittee on Economic Stabilization.

The statement came during a general discussion of Treasury policies with Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.), who had asked Humphrey whether he thought a lowering of reserve requirements was needed.

Such action, by cutting the amount of money banks must deposit in the Federal Reserve system, would permit expanded credit through additional loans.

Patman and Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) both criticized Treasury policies, contending they had raised interest rates in the last two years to "excessive" levels with consequent profit to mortgage lenders and speculators in government bonds.

Humphrey defended the policies, saying the Treasury had only "met the market," rather than leading it higher, in paying higher interest rates on securities issued early in 1953. And an increase in rates on government-backed housing loans approved in May, 1953, he said, had helped stimulate the housing boom of 1953-54.

Replying to Patman's contention that the increase had cost veterans more and profited mortgage lenders, Humphrey said the action made such loans easier to get and "gave veterans and others actual loans with which to build homes, instead of just something meaningless on paper."

Expect Hatoyama To Succeed Yoshida As Jap Minister

TOKYO (Wednesday) (AP)—Ichiro Hatoyama, who once fell foul of occupation authorities but insists he is pro-American, emerged Wednesday as the likely successor to the resigned prime minister, Shigeru Yoshida.

A coalition of Conservatives and Socialists in the Parliament is expected to vote Tuesday or Friday. It is almost certain Hatoyama will be named prime minister, at least for the present.

The change-over will not affect such policies as the U.S. base agreement, but Hatoyama wants trade and diplomatic relations with Communist lands. Hatoyama is, however, an avowed anti-Communist.

Yoshida Tuesday turned in the resignation of his Cabinet, which becomes effective when a new prime minister is elected under pressure of the coalition. Opponents denounced him as dictatorial and reactionary.

Starting with strong backing of U.S. occupation authorities, Yoshida had guided Japan through seven tumultuous years of recovery—the last six consecutively.

Hatoyama was purged by the occupation in 1946 just as he was about to become prime minister. He had put out a book praising Hitler and Mussolini before the war, sentiments he said he later rescinded.

Looks Like Break With White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy publicly assailed President Eisenhower Tuesday in what looked like a burn-the-bridges break with the administration.

He accused the President of congratulating senators who hampered "the exposure of communism" and of putting up a "shrinking show of weakness" toward Red Chinese who "are torturing and brainwashing American uniformed men."

The Wisconsin Republican, who scorned to apologize for conduct for which the Senate condemned him last week, apologized instead Tuesday for telling the voters in 1952 that election of Eisenhower would spell a vigorous fight against communism.

"I was mistaken," he said. The White House, with President Eisenhower's approval, quickly put out figures to show the administration has been tough on communism. It also called attention to Eisenhower's recent remarks that this country must not let itself be goaded into war by Red Chinese acts.

The McCarthy statement, interpreted by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) as open "political war" with the administration, set politicians figuring the possible effects on the 1956 presidential fight.

Asked if he would join a third party movement, McCarthy said: "I have no interest whatsoever at the present time in a third party. I intend to work in the Republican party."

The qualification "at the present time" was not lost on newsmen.

McCarthy's statement failed to get any support, immediately at least, from Sen. Knowland of California, GOP leader who has differed with the administration on China policy and who voted against the Senate rebuke to McCarthy.

Vacationing in Nassau, The Bahamas, Knowland issued a statement through his office here. He said he had not seen McCarthy's complete statement and so could not comment fully but he added:

"Based on my observation during the past two years, this administration has not been and in my judgment will not be in the future, soft on the issue of communism."

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the McCarthy censure committee, issued a statement saying:

"Sen. McCarthy's attack on the President, Sen. Flanders and myself shows him to be the same irresponsible McCarthy that the Senate by an overwhelming vote condemned last Thursday."

Watkins and Flanders, another key figure in the move to rebuke McCarthy, have received congratulations on their work from the President.

Watkins declared that the Eisenhower administration has an "excellent record" in ferreting out Communists and seeking to defend American interests without starting another world war. Watkins denied his committee delayed any anti-communist investigations.

Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, issued a statement saying:

"Sen. McCarthy has made a major error. Without attempting to evaluate his fight against communism, I regret to find him in what must be strange company to him, making a personal attack on the President of the United States."

"The record of the Eisenhower administration on the Communist menace both at home and abroad speaks for itself. I do not think it is necessary to remind the people that President Eisenhower was

POW Who Chose Red Life Requests Christmas Music

ALLEN, Minn. (AP)—A request for the sheet music to "White Christmas" and two other songs has convinced the mother of a former American soldier who refused repatriation after the Korean fighting that her son is "very homesick."

Mrs. Portia Howe received the request at her home here in a letter from Pfc. Richard Tenneson, 21, her son by a previous marriage.

"He asked for the sheet music to 'White Christmas,' 'Winter Wonderland' and 'Dear Hearts and Gentle People,'" Mrs. Howe said. "The songs all have special meaning in our family."

"He was in a nostalgic mood when he asked for them. I have no doubt but what he's very homesick."

The farm wife, who went to Japan hoping to talk with her son after he refused repatriation, reported Tenneson said in his lengthy letter that he had been living right with the Chinese people while working in a paper factory south of Peiping. "I'm picking up their traditions, customs and habits slowly," he told his mother.

AMPUTEE HITCHHIKES 200 MILES TO GET ARTIFICIAL LEGS

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A double amputee from Marshall, Ill., began fittings for artificial legs Tuesday after hitchhiking 200 miles to Peoria with his wheelchair.

Willard Maloney, 29, had both legs amputated after a traffic accident two years ago. On receiving word he would be fitted for artificial legs at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, in Peoria, Maloney declined to wait for transportation and started out on his own.

He left Marshall, near Terre Haute, Ind., at 8:30 a.m. Monday and reached Peoria at 9 p.m. His wheelchair is collapsible and was carried with ease by motorists who gave him lifts.

POLITICAL EXAGGERATIONS

For years we Americans have been excusing the wild exaggerations of our political campaigners, usually saying something like: "That's the way it's always been. Why worry about it?"

The trouble with this casual approach is that it never makes the campaigners any better. If anything, they're getting worse. Some of the wilder fancies just look funny in retrospect, but a lot of them seem like a pretty grim commentary on the quality of American political life.

Maybe it would help if we went around reminding our politicians of some of the things they said during the heat of combat. Maybe we ought to check up on a few of their claims, just to see how matters really worked out.

For instance, in the closing days of the New York governorship race, Democrat Averell Harriman charged that retiring Governor Dewey had been in such a hurry to finish the New York Thruway for "political purposes," that he used quick-drying cement in certain places which would have to be ripped up and replaced after the election.

Harriman also said the road was so incomplete as to shoulders, guardrails and whatnot that it would have to be closed later on so work could be finished.

Well, we'd like to hear a report on that quick-drying cement. Has anybody been out there to see if it has been ripped up? Or is it still in use? And how about the shoulders and the rest of it?

The last we heard, the Thruway was still open and no cracks were showing.

In a lot of states, Democrats wised it about that if the Republicans weren't tossed out on their ears the bottom was going to drop out of the nation's economy.

Well, the GOP was only nudged out of congressional control by the narrowest of margins, but the last time we looked the bottom was still in the economy. As a matter of fact, according to a considerable number of signs, business was farther away from the bottom than it was a few weeks back. And the White House is still Republican.

Anyone could multiply these examples a hundred-fold, of course. They make a pretty sad catalogue. The catalogue ought to be published, again and again, until the politicians start talking as if they expected their words to be remembered beyond tomorrow. The American voter is not as gullible as they think.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It has always been my contention that children are more intelligent than grown-ups.

One sign of intelligence is the ability to get what you really need or want out of life.

And the Christmas season is the time when the kids best show their mental superiority over adults in this respect. A child knows exactly the presents he wants, and he knows the right technique for getting them.

The little boys and girls get out their school pads and pencils and write letters such as the following:

"Dear Santa Claus,
"I am a little girl just ate yares old. Boy, have I ben a good girl. I ben so good my mommy says if she had another little girl just like me she wouldn't know what to do.
"I wanna bike and pigtales and a net dress and police don't bring me no more dolls on accounta I wready got more dolls than a store.
Your littl' fren,
Rosebud O'Hare."
On Christmas Day Rosebud and her pal next door, Butch Rosencranz, compare the loot.

"Sure, I got exactly what I wanted," brags Rosebud. "Don't you think my daddy can read plain writing?"

"I thought you ast for pigtales—you ain't got no pigtales," objects Butch.

"Silly. I new there wasn't time to grow pigtales 'for Chrismuss," says Rosebud. "I jus' put that in about the pigtales so they'd be sure to get me the bike. That's what I really wanted."

It is this striking innocence about children that pays off. They have faith.

The real reason adults often don't get what they want is because they are so dumb. Any child realizes Santa Claus has to be told what to bring. But silly grownups make their secret Christmas wishes and keep them to themselves. Then they get angry because Santa Claus hasn't been able to read their mind.

How do you know it won't work? A friend of mine wrote a Santa Claus letter—and sent it to 100 ladies listed in a social directory—saying, "I am just a poor lonely bachelior with high principles who once in his life would like to have a beautiful girl take him out to dinner on Christmas."
Well, it didn't turn out quite as he expected. He had hoped for a beautiful young blonde.
"Nobody showed up but a wealthy widow," he confessed.
"But I certainly don't feel I wasted my stamp money."

The World Today

By DON WHITEHEAD
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai Stevenson and his lieutenants have completed one of the most subtle and successful campaigns of recent political history with the election of Paul M. Butler of Indiana as Democratic national chairman.

The choice of Butler is in reality the climax of a two-year drive by Stevenson to overhaul the party machinery, heal old wounds, wipe out a campaign deficit of some $800,000 and restore the unity which was shattered in the election of 1952.

In this period, the party's center of gravity has shifted from former President Harry S. Truman to Stevenson, who is now by all odds the party's strong man. And perhaps it was planned that way by Stevenson.

But the important thing politically is that Stevenson has achieved his goals with no loss of political face for any faction in the party. He has left no apparent wounds to be healed or untidy messes to be cleaned up later. His popularity appears to be high in the South as well as in the North.

After his defeat two years ago by President Eisenhower, Stevenson set out on his course.

Through Stevenson's influence, his old friend Stephen Mitchell had been named Democratic national chairman. Mitchell was little known on the national political scene, but he worked hard to win friends and influence people. And politicians generally agree he did a good job for his party and for Stevenson.

Stevenson paid court to the Southland. He soothed the Southerners, whose pride had been hurt in the fight over the "loyalty oath" in the 1952 national convention. He made friends for himself in Dixie where feeling had run so high against Harry Truman.

And yet while wooing the South, he didn't snub Truman. He often conferred with him and managed to keep his support.

Stevenson never displayed this political finesse to better advantage than he did early last September when Democratic leaders met in Kansas City to plan a fund-raising drive and to map campaign strategy.

Stevenson could easily have dominated that meeting had he wished. But instead he deferred to Truman and encouraged Truman to take the spotlight.

Truman responded by urging the party to double its campaign fund in the fight for control of Congress—an appeal, incidentally, which was heeded and which may well have given the Democrats the extra punch they needed to gain control of Congress.

The payoff on Stevenson's political skill came at New Orleans last Saturday when his choice, Butler, was elected easily to the Democratic chairmanship with 70 of the national committee's 106 votes.

Just about the only question left to be answered is this: Will Stevenson use this political finesse to gain his party's presidential nomination in 1956?

A great many political experts think he will.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tonight Bob Hope's TV show takes on an international flavor that you'll be seeing more of in future shows.

Hope will present an hour show which he made recently in London. Among his attractions: Maurice Chevalier, Beatrice Lillie, French ballerina, Lane Davy and the Colosseum choir. I dropped in at Hope's Toluca Lake mansion and heard him enthuse about the show. "You gotta stay ahead of people in television," he reasoned. "I just got back from Dallas, where I helped open a new bank. After talking to people there, I realized again how the general public is about TV entertainment. They watch everything!"

Hope, who has six shows to do this season decided early that he would try to do something different. Most of the good variety acts and guest stars have been seen over and over on TV, so a new act was needed. When he accepted a bid for the command performance in London, he decided to work in his TV show over there.

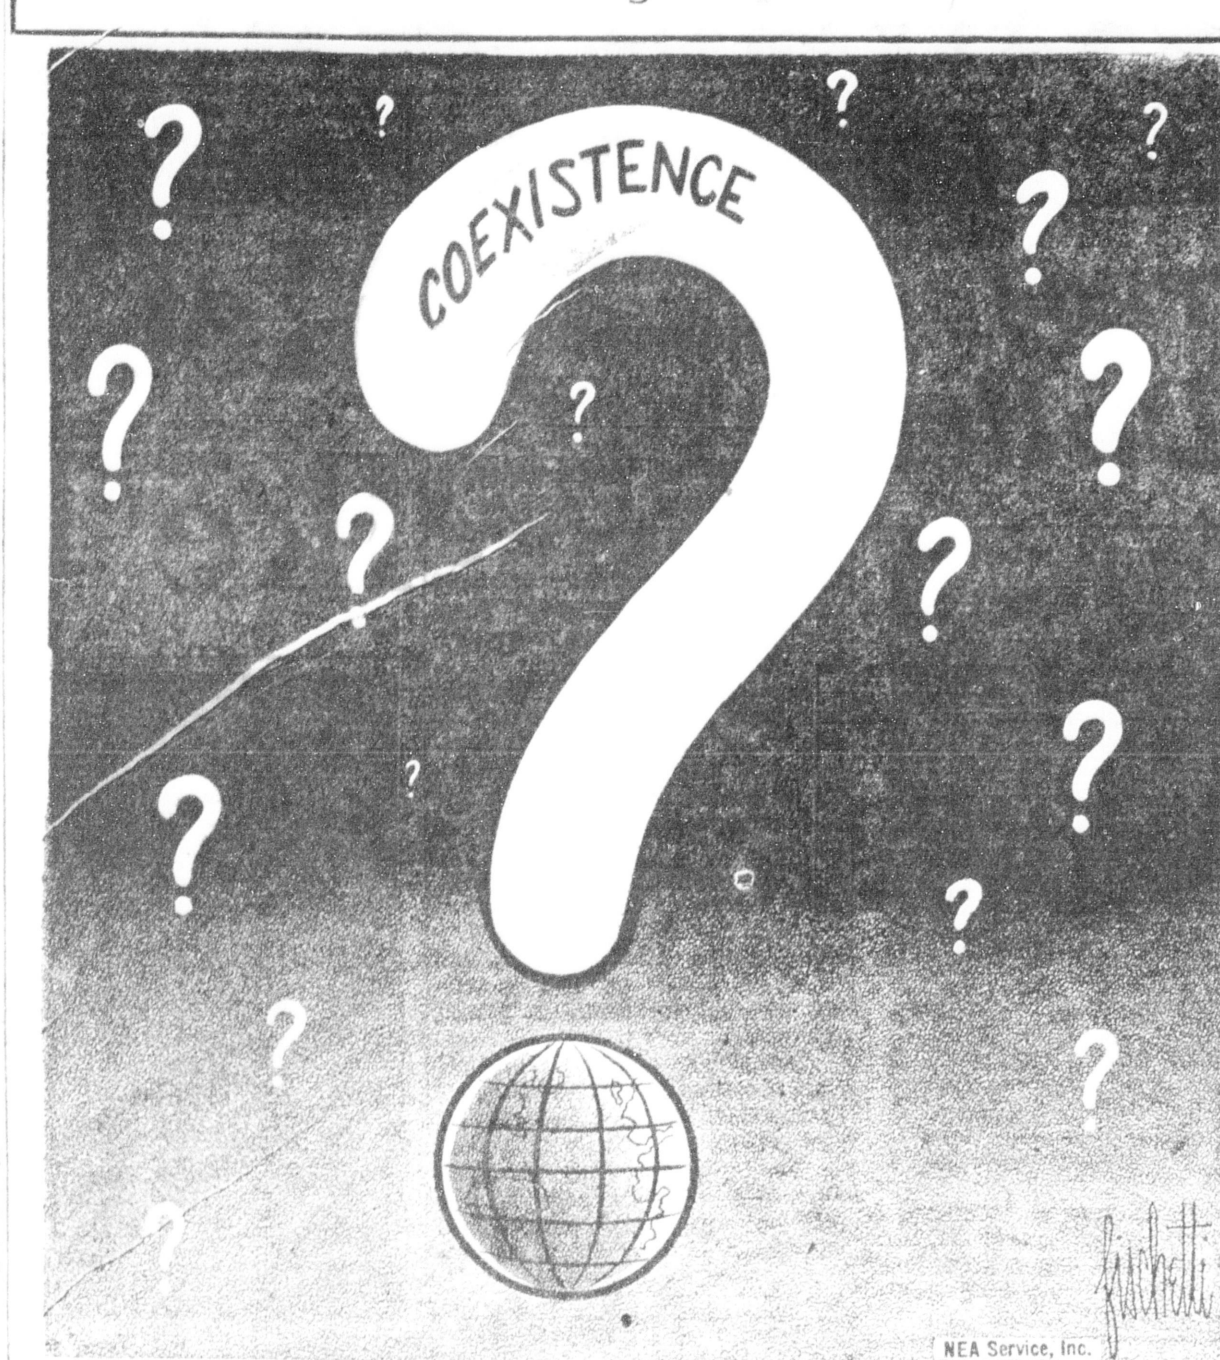

At first union problems seemed rugged. The musicians' union has frowned on the use of foreign-made music on American TV shows. Hope called union boss James Petrillo. "Bring back anything you want," Bob said. Petrillo, "but come home soon."

Hope feels that such a different kind of show will draw the top audience rating. He said that the rating on his last show, Oct. 12, was only 4 below the leader, "I Love Lucy." "Which is not bad for a lad who is on every month or so."

Even Children Can Make Christmas Butter Cookies

CHILDREN LOVE TO MAKE these special Christmas butter cookies for their relatives and friends.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor
Youngsters love to get into the act when mother is making Christmas cookies. Indulge their urge to make these gifts for friends and relatives—it's good for the true Christmas spirit.

Kate Stahl, food expert, tells us she began her cookie baking career in Denver as a very little girl. Used her grandmother's recipe. She learned to make 30 different kinds. They all were made with butter. Cookie expert Stahl believes butter gives a rich and delicate flavor, especially when packed in paraffin cartons. She also thinks the cookies, gift wrapped, should be delivered on Christmas Eve.

She insists that even rolled cookies are not difficult for children to make.

Butter Cookies
(Approximately 3 dozen cookies)

One-half cup butter, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Cream butter. Gradually add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Mix in egg and vanilla. Sift in flour, baking powder and salt; blend well. Chill dough about 1/2 hour. Roll dough to about 1/4-inch thickness on lightly floured board. Cut with assorted Christmas cookie cutters; place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Decorate as desired.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Beef tongue with creamed horseradish and caper sauce, boiled potatoes with chopped parsley, buttered beans, rye bread, butter or margarine, cole slaw, fruit bowl, butter cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

Manners Make Friends

Unless you have a private office of your own, how you keep your desk is not just your private concern. One desk cluttered high with papers that should have been filed or tossed in the wastebasket is an eyesore for everyone in the office. Keeping a tidy desk is always good business practice.

But if you share an office with others it is also good manners.

Inventory of U. S. Real Estate Nears Completion

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the announced purpose of getting rid of everything not considered absolutely essential for efficient government operation, the first full inventory of Uncle Sam's real estate holdings is now nearing completion. The inventory must be turned over to the Senate Appropriations Committee before March 1, 1955.

Detailed property surveys are now being made by the 10 major government departments and eight other independent agencies in whose names nearly all U. S. property is held. These surveys are being turned over to General Services Administration, which is Uncle Sam's housekeeper for assembly in a master inventory.

Then, for the first time, Uncle Sam will know for sure just what he really owns and what it's worth, or at least what it cost.

Once this job is completed, the idea will be to keep the inventory on a current basis.

THE NEXT TASK WILL BE to determine which of these properties are no longer needed by the government as "excess" and which can be disposed of as "surplus."

The purpose here is twofold. First is to reduce government costs by cutting the expense of maintaining property it doesn't need. Second is to transfer back to state and local government tax rolls such surplus property as is now carried tax free because of federal government ownership.

To shape up policies for this program, a Surplus Real Property Disposal Project was set up in the Bureau of the Budget last December.

In July David H. Brill, Chicago real estate lawyer, was made administrator of the project. Mr. Brill says he hopes to make a final report by next October.

There has been some misunderstanding and misrepresentation of this project. It has been looked at somewhat askance as an opening wedge for a great give-away or bargain sale of public lands, national forests, reclamation projects, Tennessee Valley Authority dams, or even Atomic Energy Commission installations. That isn't in the picture at all.

SPECIFICALLY EXCLUDED FROM this program are the public domain, the national forests, national parks and all properties leased by the government or held under mixed government-private enterprise ownership, such as defense plants. Also, the survey is limited to the continental United States, which excludes the vast government land holding in Alaska and the Panama Canal.

The best estimates now available are that some 13,500 properties will be reported by the GSA inventory. Four thousand of them will be under Army, Navy and Air Force ownership and management.

The other 9,500 are largely owned and managed by 17 other agencies: Post Office department buildings, Department of Commerce airfields and lighthouses, Federal Housing agency developments, Veterans Administration hospitals and so on.

THEIR COMBINED ACQUISITION COSTS are very roughly $30 billion to $40 billion. How much of this volume might ultimately be disposed of, and at what savings or what tax benefits to local government, no one can now estimate.

If the number 13,500 seems small, it is explained that the 90-mile-long Hanford, Wash., atomic energy plant is listed as one installation. An Army base with a hospital, housing development and research is counted as one installation.

Eighteen bills were introduced in the last Congress to transfer government property to local tax rolls. None passed because nobody could agree on what was necessary property for government operation, and what was surplus or excess.

The Brill project studies hope to change that situation and get some ground rules established for reducing Uncle Sam's property inventory in a big way, by removing red tape gain sale of public lands, national

DR. JORDAN SAYS

Drugs, Change of Climate May Help Bronchitis Victims

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

"My husband," writes Mrs. H. "has a bronchial cough. It is worse in the morning and sometimes it is hard for him to breathe. Is there anything he or I can do to bring him relief?"

It would seem from this letter that Mrs. H.'s husband is severely afflicted with chronic bronchitis. The fact that he finds it difficult to breathe may mean that there are already some complications which have developed in the lungs or in the heart. Certainly he should take active steps to try to relieve the situation before it gets any worse.

BRONCHITIS is an irritation or inflammation of the breathing passageways leading into the lung tissue itself. It is almost always the result of some irritation from germs, viruses, irritating fumes, or other elements in the air which bring about changes in the lining of these passageways.

In general, bronchitis is considered to be either acute or chronic. When acute the onset is sudden and the early symptoms may be much like those of an ordinary cold. Not infrequently there is a feeling of heaviness over the chest and fever is common. The most characteristic feature is a cough which at first is dry but later is accompanied by mucous secretion which is brought up with the coughing and brings temporary relief.

THE OUTCOME of acute bronchitis depends on the nature of the cause and whether it is mild or severe. Often the fever lasts only a week or so and then the cough becomes looser and greater relief is obtained from bringing up sputum. In those people who are weakened by starvation, disease, or by some other cause and in those who are aged, acute bronchitis is particularly dangerous.

Bronchitis also may develop slowly and be "chronic" from the start. The cause of chronic bronchitis are much the same as those of the acute variety. The symptoms likewise are similar but not so severe.

THE SUBSTANCE which causes the irritation should be removed, if possible. Drugs may relieve the symptoms somewhat. Every effort should be made to build up the patient into good health and avoid irritation to the air passages.

Change of climate, when it can be arranged, is an important part of treatment for many patients with chronic bronchitis. Often those who cannot seem to get over their chronic cough at home promptly improve when they go to a warm, mild, or dry climate. Of course, the result of such change depends to some extent on the cause of the bronchitis and also on how long the bronchitis has been in existence and its severity.

A long-lasting chronic bronchitis is not only distressing but also carries risks for the future—particularly that of bronchiectasis.

But the king covered his face, and the king cried with a loud voice, O my son Absalom, O Absalom, my son, my son—II Samuel 18:4.

Grief is a tattered tent Where through God's light darts shine.

Don't Be Afraid to Spend Christmas in Your Own Home

Where to spend Christmas is a major problem in many homes at this season of the year.

Every year letters come in from young couples with children who can't make their own parents understand that they want to establish Christmas traditions in their own homes—instead of taking the children to the grandparents' home for the holiday.

Here is such a letter from a wife who says her husband's parents expect all of their children and grandchildren to spend Christmas at their house.

She and her husband would like to celebrate Christmas in their own home because of their children but when she tried to explain this to her in-laws they said it was a selfish attitude.

She adds: "I feel that our children should grow up with memories of Christmases spent at home, and that we could get together with my husband's family some other time during the year-end holidays."

"SELFISH" SAY OLD FOLKS
"I have been called 'heartless' and 'hard to get along with' because my in-laws feel I think only of my husband and children and not of the older folks who would like to have all of their children and grandchildren in at their house."

There is nothing selfish about your attitude. It is perfectly normal. Your parents-in-law should be able to understand and respect your wish to build Christmas traditions in your own home.

However, if you can't make them understand, it might be better—even for the children's sake—to give in gracefully to their wishes than to cause a family row.

Surely, there can be little of the Christmas spirit in any kind of celebration that results in a family squabble.

Urges Donors To Weigh Hospital's Civic Importance

Edward C. Shultz, general chairman of Our Saviour's Hospital Building Fund, urged Tuesday that local business and industries give careful consideration to the civic importance of the hospital project when deciding upon the amount of their contribution.

"Our hospitals," Mr. Shultz said, "are everyone's business. In order for this campaign to be successful, however, we must secure generous three-year pledges from our corporations who have so much at stake in this appeal. I am sure that none of these organizations would want to set up business in a city that did not have adequate hospital facilities to care for its employees. The success of the Our Saviour's Hospital Building Fund will assure modern up-to-date hospital care for this area."

Mr. Shultz pointed out that the only possible method by which this new hospital can be built is through contributions of the public. "Our Saviour's," he said, "is a voluntary hospital operating on a non-profit basis. All patient income is needed for day-to-day operating expense, including replacement of equipment and furnishing. No surplus for major building needs has been created nor is it possible to do so from operating receipts."

The next general report meeting for the campaign will be held on Thursday, Dec. 9, at 3:30 p.m. in the Banquet Room of the Dunlap Hotel.

Interpreting The News

Replaces King's Painting With Fake In Test

LONDON (AP)—Sir Gerald Kelly, president of Britain's Royal Academy of Art, disclosed Monday night that he once stole one of the late King George VI's art masterpieces — and replaced it with a fake.

It was only a stunt to prove it could be done, Kelly told the audience at an art exhibition. He later returned the work, a painting by the 18th-century German artist Hans Holbein.

Kelly said the incident occurred in 1950 when the King lent his Windsor Castle collection of Holbeins for a London exhibition.

"I got into a panic in case one was stolen," Kelly said.

To find out whether such a theft would be easy, he said, he had "a large woman" smuggle in a reproduction of one of the paintings under her dress, had two children divert attention with an outcry in an adjoining room and deftly switched the paintings.

The whole operation took 34 seconds," he said. "After that the Holbeins were locked in the cellar every night. And we never did tell anybody of our little experiment."

London Playboy Gets Seven Years For Safe-Blowing

LONDON (AP)—Debonair Harold Lough White, long a dashing figure in the gilded high society of London's Mayfair district, was sentenced Monday to seven years in prison as a safe-blower.

The 46-year-old playboy, who was on first name terms with many socialites, was exposed by police witnesses as a big time thief.

Sentenced with Lough White was his "intelligence officer," Gordon Simpson, 35, who drew a six-year term. An insurance broker, Simpson tipped the master mind off to the whereabouts of heavily insured valuables.

Two other accomplices—George Chatham, 42, and Robert Melrose, 40—got 10 years apiece because they had long criminal records.

All four were charged specifically with blowing a Mayfair jeweler's safe last July and making off with 37,000 pounds ($103,600) worth of gold leaf.

Chatham, an expert at stealthy second story work, brought the gang to grief. Detectives who arrested him on suspicion found fragments of metal from the dynamited strongbox embedded in his pocket comb.

Lough White, the son of a doctor, lived on a grand scale, with two private airplanes, a yacht, three automobiles, a town house and a country cottage.

SHEIL CLOSES.

WFLC CLOSE JAN. 22

CHICAGO (AP)—Sheil Institute and Radio Station WFLC will cease operations Jan. 22.

Both the institute, a college-level school, and the radio station were founded five years ago by Bishop Bernard J. Sheil of the Archdiocese of Chicago.

The school in announcing the closing Monday, attributed the closing to a "reorganization" within the Catholic Youth Organization, founded by Bishop Sheil. He resigned as head of the CYO Sept. 2.

The school had an average enrollment of 400.

CONTRACTORS NAME OFFICERS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Thomas H. Joyce Jr. of Springfield was named president of the Associated General Contractors of Illinois Monday at the annual convention.

H. W. Hartman of Peoria was chosen vice president and Clay V. Hoskins of Mount Vernon, secretary-treasurer.

The contractors adopted a resolution approving President Eisenhower's proposed 50 billion dollar highway program. Another approved resolution expressed opposition to any further increases in wages or fringe benefits for workers in construction industries.

TAKES STEPS TO CANONIZATION

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican's Congregation of Rites today unanimously approved the introduction of causes for the beatification of Pope Pius IX, a step toward his canonization as a saint of the Roman Catholic church.

The pontiff, who reigned from 1846 to 1878, is especially noted for his proclamation of the dogma of the Virgin Mary's immaculate conception.

The beatification process usually requires many years.

BILL MCGOWAN STRICKEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bill McGowan, dean of major league umpires, has suffered a heart attack and as a result has retired after 30 years of calling balls and strikes in the American League.

McGowan's wife said today the 58-year-old umpire is in serious condition at his home in suburban Silver Springs, Md.

The league voted him a pension for life at its annual meeting in New York Monday.

Select Jurors To Try Libel Case Against Lawyer

A libel suit in which two citizens of the Concord community allege that a Jacksonville attorney referred to them as "Communists" in a circular, went to trial Tuesday in Morgan county circuit court.

Ellis E. Brainer and Fred C. Brainer are plaintiffs in two suits, each seeking damages of $10,000, which were combined for trial purposes. The defendant in the case is Robert Emmett Harmon, who has been a practicing attorney in this city for a number of years.

The case was called for trial Tuesday morning after which attorneys began the selection of a jury.

The Brainers in this suits charged that on or about Oct. 30, 1952, Harmon "composed, prepared, edited, and printed" or caused to be issued, a circular entitled "Communism in Morgan County" in which they were called "Communists." They alleged that the circular was prepared and issued with malicious intent.

The circular was issued, the plaintiffs charge, in connection with settlement of the estate of Lula Bell Goodpasture, a Concord woman in which the Brainers were interested.

Maurice W. Knepper of Springfield is attorney for the plaintiffs. Harmon is represented by Attorneys Hugh Green of Jacksonville and Paul W. Gordon of Springfield.

WOMAN WINS THIRD TERM AS MAYOR

OTTAWA (AP)—Tart, longed Charlotte Whitton apparently defeated two male opponents Monday to win a third term as mayor of Canada's federal capital. The 58-year-old former welfare worker held a lead of almost 7,000 votes over her nearest competitor with 102 of the city's 402 polling places still to be counted.

Threaten Violence If Negroes Enter Alabama School

LINDEN, Ala. (AP)—A warning that "blood will be spilled on the campus" if Negroes try to enter white schools in Alabama was voiced Monday night at an organizational meeting of the Marengo County White Citizens' Council.

Another speaker, State Sen. Walter Givhan said the whole U. S. Army is not big enough to force that integration upon us.

More than 400 white persons from this predominantly Negro populated south Alabama county attended the WCC organizational session.

Atty. McClain Pitts of Selma said, "We intend to maintain segregation and do so without violence."

"But I know the first time a Negro tries to enter Parrish High School at Selma, or any other white school, blood will be spilled on the campus."

Givhan declared that the goal of the National Assn. for the advancement of Colored People "is to open the bedroom doors of our white women to Negro men."

Editor Raps Those Who Would Close Courts To Press

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Norman E. Isaacs, managing editor of the Louisville (Ky.) Times, Monday night assailed members of the bar who would seek to restrict press coverage of court proceedings.

Isaacs took part in a panel discussion on the effect of news coverage of court trials on the administration of justice before a meeting of the Bar Assn. of St. Louis.

"The courts belong to all the people and the press represents the people—informally perhaps—but nonetheless effectively," Isaacs said. "It seems to us absurd that because of occasional lapses by individual newspapers that the press should be barred from trials or restricted from coverage of these events."

Harry C. Blanton, Sikeston, Mo. former U. S. Attorney here, said certain phases of publicity printed in advance of trials is prejudicial to proper administration of the law. Among these he listed opinions of guilt or innocence, past police records and evidence obtained illegally that may not be admitted at the time of the trial.

Harold G. Baker, East St. Louis, Ill., former U. S. Attorney there, and Bruce Barrington, manager of radio station KXOK, also took part in the panel discussion.

You don't have a money problem?
Well, either you are smart or lucky.

You were smart if you bought one of our large, attractive piggy banks last year. You were lucky if you received one as a gift.

But this message is addressed to those poor folks who were neither smart nor lucky: to you who find yourselves short of ready cash for Christmas shopping. Yep. You ought to buy a piggy bank. You will be pleased and proud when next Christmas rolls around and you discover the dimes and quarters you saved so easily have mounted up to a very tidy pile of cash.

And here is another idea. Some of the smart and lucky ones use our novel piggy banks as a place for their loose change. Then when it is time to lend a helping hand to the Salvation Army, the Christmas Fund, Community Chest or other favorite public service, the money is right there to help, with no hardship or embarrassment.

See these Happy Pigs. Sitting Pigs, Standing Pigs. You will smile when you see them... you will love them when you empty them next year. Prices start at only $1.35.

Demos Claim GOP Campaign Promises Were 'Unrealistic'

WASHINGTON — Democrats today hopped on Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey's declaration that a balanced budget is out for next year. Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) charged it made "political clackety-clack" of 1952 Republican campaign pledges.

Humphrey told a news conference Monday, "We cannot balance the budget" during the year starting next July 1. He said every effort would be made to keep the deficit below three billion dollars. And he confirmed a previous forecast that the deficit for the present fiscal year, ending next June 30, would be in the vicinity of 4½ billion dollars.

Sparkman and Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) assailed the administration for what they called "utterly unrealistic" 1952 campaign promises to cut spending and balance the budget.

Sen. Ives (R-N.Y.) said Humphrey's statement would guarantee a "very careful study" by Congress of tax reduction scheduled for next spring.

These include a decrease from 52 to 47 per cent in the corporate income tax rate and a reduction in a number of excise (sales) taxes. Humphrey said he couldn't anticipate whether President Eisenhower will suggest abandoning the cuts. But his comments encouraged the belief that the administration will oppose any tax decreases next year.

presidential nominee in 1952, said in an interview:

"It is no surprise to me that they can't balance the budget. The Republicans said they were going to do that and they were going to cut spending and pare down the national debt and create what they called a sound dollar."

"Actually, the dollar is worth a little today as ever before. And the budget is worse out of balance than ever before in peacetime. The debt is going up. Spending has not come down."

Douglas said he was not "blaming" the Republican administration "for failing to balance the budget."

"I'm not surprised at Humphrey's statement," he told a reporter. "but I think the experience of the Republican party should teach them not to be so loose with their campaign promises."

THIS pedal does more than just feed gas to an eager and high-powered V8 engine.

When you give it the extra nudge that moves it beyond the full throttle position, something happens that never happened before in an automobile.

You hear a businesslike purr, which tells you that twenty power vanes, deep inside the 1955 Dynaflo Drive,* have changed their pitch—just like the variable pitch propellers on a modern air liner.

And with the same result in the way you get-up-and-go, with a safety-surge of power for pulling out of a tight spot on the highway. Words just can't describe it. It's a new and thrilling sensation—something you simply must try for yourself.

There's nothing like it on the 1955 new-car horizon.

Fact is, there's a whale of a lot to see at your Buick dealer's showroom.

There's fresh new styling. There's higher horsepower in every Buick V8 engine. There's a new Airpower carburetor. And beneath it

Mrs. McCarthy Is Guest Speaker To Lynnville Society

The Lynnville Christian Missionary society held its annual monthly family night Dec. 2 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamel, route two. Members of the society and their families were guests for a delicious baked chicken supper at 6 p.m. The meal was served by the domestic committee, Mrs. Gerald Heaton, Mrs. Tom Dodswothy. Grace was offered with the group singing, Praise God From Whom all Blessing Flow.

The Hamel home was tastefully decorated in keeping with the Christmas season. Yuletide centerpieces decorated the tables. Between courses group singing of carols was enjoyed. Following dessert the group sang the birthday song for Mrs. Russell Wynn who was presented with a beautifully decorated cake baked by her sister, Mrs. Freda Gunnels.

The society president, Mrs. Harold Hamel, welcomed the guests and opened the session by calling on Claude Jewsbury for devotions which were most inspiring. Mrs. H. V. McNeely was the program chairman. Jack McNeely sang "Star of the East" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lloyd Gordon.

Mrs. McNeely introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Avahlee McCarthy, who told in a friendly intimate manner of her trip last summer to the Holy Land also showing slides. The pictures in lovely colors showed the modern and ancient including the native dress in the different countries worn simultaneously with the western clothing by both tourists and natives.

The meeting closed with the missionary benediction.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance and was originated by Houbigant. Try their Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.85 plus tax at Long's Pharmacy.

ANOTHER BIG CHUNK OF ROCK CRUMBLES FROM NIAGARA FALLS

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Another big chunk of rock has crumbled from the brink of Niagara Falls, but veteran park police said Monday it was difficult to detect any change in the appearance of the cataract.

The fall occurred over the weekend about halfway between Luna Island and Prospect Point, on the American side.

It was from Prospect Point that about 85,000 tons of rock plunged into the misty Niagara River gorge last July.

The new fall was estimated unofficially at 2,800 tons.

TAKE LONG WAY 'ROUND TO VACATION SPOT

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP)—Per Soderberg, 33, of Sweden left Madrid Sunday aboard a Spanish Airlines plane taking him to the Balearic Islands for a vacation of three months.

Monday morning, much to his surprise, he found himself on the opposite side of the ocean and will have to spend the first six days of his vacation getting to the Balearics.

A spokesman for the airline here said Soderberg somehow missed the landing Sunday in the Balearics, five hours out of Madrid, and rode right along. He thought this was his destination until he was rudely awakened. Now he is on the same plane, which will go to Caracas, Bermuda, the Azores and then back to Madrid. There, about six days from now, he can try again.

"HOUSE WIVES HANDS?" OLD MAN WINTER IS TO BLAME

CHICAGO (AP)—A doctor reported Monday that "housewives hands" is mostly a winter time hazard.

Dr. Matthew J. Brunner, assistant of dermatology at Northwestern University, said soaps, detergents, solvents and other irritants wouldn't be nearly so much of a problem for the housewife if winter didn't come along and chap her hands.

Tiny fissures or openings in the outer skin of chapped hands apparently cause the trouble.

He told delegates to the annual meeting of the American Academy of Dermatology and Syphilology he was able to induce housewife's eczema by soaking the hands in a detergent, but only in winter.

CANADA TO TAKE ALL TROOPS FROM KOREA

OTTAWA (AP)—The government intends to withdraw the remainder of the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade from Korea early next year, a qualified source said Monday.

"We expect that all Canadian troops will be out of Korea early next year and that we can clear Korea off our books," an authoritative Defense Department official said.

He said no definite date has been set for withdrawal of the last Canadian soldier from Korea. Other officials have said that in view of the confused political situation in Korea, it would be better to have all Canadians out of that country.

MULE STARTS FIRE THAT DESTROYS PINES

FOLKSTON, Ga. (AP)—A forest fire started 10 days ago by a runaway mule that had switched its tail into a bucket of coals, destroyed 20,000 acres of valuable pine trees before it was extinguished Monday.

Forestry officials called it one of the worst in south Georgia in many years.

H. E. Ruark of the Georgia Forestry Commission said the fire started in the swamp Nov. 27 when a mule being used in turpentine work switched its tail into a bucket of coals used as a warming fire in a wagon. The frightened animal ran into the underbrush, setting it ablaze.

CONDEMN JORDAN AND ISRAEL

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP)—Jordan and Israel were condemned Monday for violating the Palestine armistice by exchanging fire across the demarcation line near Zeita last Friday, Dr. Hazem Nuseibeh, senior Jordan delegate to the Mixed Armistice Commission announced.

Two Jordan farmers were killed by Israeli fire, he said.

A four-hour emergency meeting of the commission failed to determine which side fired first.

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball's minor leagues won improved working agreements from the major leagues Tuesday but lost their battle for lower player limits and curbs on radio and TV broadcasts.

The 16 player representatives who had forwarded their requests in writing suffered much the same fate as the minors' program. Requests for a minimum salary increase from $6,000 to $7,200 and for permission to deal directly with Caribbean clubs were denied. The players did get the right to receive contracts Jan. 15 instead of Feb. 1.

Although both the American and National Leagues Monday discussed the idea of moving west to become 10-club leagues, possibly in 1956, Commissioner Ford Frick said the subject wasn't brought up at the one-hour joint meeting.

According to Commissioner Frick, the improved working agreements will "put more financial burden on the major league clubs and increase the return to the minor leagues, particularly in classes B, C and D."

Under the new deal, the minors will get $3,500 in class B, $3,000 in class C and $2,500 in class D for agreeing to let a major league team select players from its roster at the end of the season.

Frick cast the decisive ballot against cutting the player limit from 25 to 23 men, after the National voted for the reduction and the American against it.

Under the proposed radio-TV amendment, all commercial baseball broadcasts would have been banned on stations outside a club's home area (50 miles). Both leagues voted "no" unanimously, without much discussion.

Perry Moss Kills Rumors He May Leave Miami U.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Perry Moss, University of Miami basketball star, said Tuesday he'll keep the job at least another year.

Moss did not confirm or deny a rumor that he had been offered the head coaching job at Tulsa, where he played one year of football before going into the Army. After the war, he was quarterbacking at Illinois.

At Miami this year, Moss developed one of the nation's outstanding backfields.

"I'll be at the University of Miami next fall—nowhere else," Moss said. "There is a great opportunity here."

Otto Graham, Talks Retiring

CLEVELAND (AP)—Otto Graham, the last of Paul Brown's original Browns, is thinking of retiring from pro football.

"I just don't feel up to another 2 season of it," said the Cleveland Browns quarterback, who was 33 Monday.

Whether he actually will call it quits remains to be seen, of course.

One thing is known: When he signed his last contract he promised Brown that he would not stop passing until the Browns were assured of a strong quarterbacking.

Playing behind him is George Ratterman, probably the most highly paid sub quarterback in the National League. But it's not much of a secret that Brown depends on Graham.

In military service is Babe Parilli, a quarterback from the University of Kentucky.

Picked because of his passing ability, Graham was the first man Brown signed when the team was formed. He completed 54.6 per cent of his flings that first year and has done better many times since.

Last year he completed 64.7 per cent of 258 attempts. During the first 10 games of this year, he has completed 134 of 225 tosses for 1,940 yards. His present average of 59.6 is the best in the league and his average gain of 8.62 yards a throw is second only to Norm Van Brocklin of Los Angeles.

CULVER STOCKTON 66-62

CARTHAGE, Ill. (AP)—Culver Stockton rallied behind Dave Marr's 23 points Tuesday night to 1 defeat Carthage, 66-62.

Carthage held a 34-29 halftime lead, mainly through the efforts of Fred Inhof, who scored 22 points. However, the visitors gained control of the backboards in the second half and went on to win.

Blueboys Seek 4th Straight At McKendree

The Illinois College Blueboys journey to Lebanon tonight where they will tangle with the McKendree College five.

The Blueboys will be seeking their fourth straight victory of the young season and their second conference win. Last week the IC team defeated Carthage in a non-conference battle and opened its Prairie College Conference schedule Saturday evening by downing Greenville in a thriller.

Coach Al Miller announced there would be only one game tonight, starting about 8:00. The 13 players making the trip are: Ed Harrell, Dick Bessley, Dick Barnes, Roger Curman, Bill Morris, Bill Kaufman, Bob Standfield, Bill Oldenettel, Todd Renfro, Bill Haygood, Glenn Beamer, Don Hazenring and Don Chino-worth.

This will be the first road game of the year for the Blueboys who resume their home schedule Saturday night against Culver Stockton. Saturday night's game will be part of a double header. The first game will feature Routt against Schurz of Chicago.

Northwestern Nips Staunton 50-43 In 2 Overtimes

SCOTTVILLE—(Special)— Larry Redfern dumped in a bucket in the second overtime to nip the visiting Staunton five 50-43 here last night.

It was a nip and tuck affair all the way. The score was tied at the end of the first, second and third periods. At the end of the regulation time the score was tied 44-44. Both teams made four points in the first three minute overtime and a sudden death period went into effect. It was then that Redfern sank his two pointer.

Marvin paced the scoring for the winners with 26 points while Lude dumped in 19 for the losers.

Staunton won the preliminary 38-36.

Pacific Coast Conference Backs Regional TV

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference Tuesday strongly urged the adoption of regional television of college football in 1955.

Conference officials said the proposal will be submitted to the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. in New York City Jan. 7.

The coast action is similar to one advanced in recent weeks in the Big Ten but the coast idea provides for a more elastic operation of regional TV.

The plan would be under general supervision of the NCAA but member schools in the respective regions would have more immediate control of the program.

Under the PCC plan, schools in the various regions would be limited in TV appearances to one game at home and one away on Saturday afternoons. There would be no limit to appearances Friday or Saturday nights.

Chicago Cards Plan Incentive Program

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League announced Tuesday that next season the club will set aside 50 per cent of net profits for players and coaches in a revolutionary "incentive program."

Walter Wolfner, managing director of the Cardinals, who have won only 2 of 11 NFL games this season, said in a statement:

"The Cardinals will set aside 50 per cent of net profits from all football operations, including receipts from radio and television which will be distributed as follows—33 per cent to the players and 17 per cent to the coaching staff."

"This 'incentive program' will in no way effect the players' or coaches' salaries, as it is in addition to their contract figures."

Wolfner added: "Naturally we believe this will give the players and coaches added incentive to win, and we know that a winning team will bring more fans, and considerably to the gate receipts and result in more money for the players and coaches."

Bobo Olson Voted Neil Memorial Plaque By Writers

NEW YORK (AP)—Middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson, Tuesday was voted the Edward J. Neil memorial plaque as "fighter of the year" for 1954 by the Boxing Writers Assn.

The 26-year-old, Hawaiian-born Olson will receive the award at the association's annual dinner here Jan. 13.

A busy fighter in the ring, Olson won the 160-pound title by wall-punching England's Randy Turpin in New York Oct. 21, 1953.

He whipped Cuba's Kid Gavilan in his first defense in Chicago, April 2, and followed up with a decisive triumph over Cleveland's Rocky Castellani, the No. 1 contender at the time, in San Francisco Aug. 20.

The Neil plaque is presented annually to the fighter of the year and the man who did most to advance the sport during the year. It is named in memory of the former Associated Press boxing writer who was killed in 1938 while serving as a war correspondent in Spain.

Olson received a unanimous vote from the 39 voting members. He succeeds Gavilan, the former welterweight champion.

NORTH CENTRAL TOPS MILLIKIN

NAPERVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A 45-point scoring spree by forward Bill Ward led North Central Illinois to a 98-88 College Conference of Illinois basketball victory over Millikin Tuesday night.

Ward ran his total for three this year to 122 points. He scored 37 and 40 points in two earlier games.

Ten will be prepared to go in its stand is the crux of an issue that reached a peak last March.

It was then that some officials thought the Big Ten would go so far as to defy the NCAA and go regional on its own. This, of course, never materialized. The NCAA, by mail referendum of its membership, voted 184 to 26 to continue its limited nationally controlled program.

The 1954 NCAA television committee announced after a meeting in Chicago last week that it would recommend continuation of national control at the organization's annual convention in New York Jan. 5-7.

But it was pointed out that the specific 1955 plan would be mapped by a new committee to be named later and that within national control there could be many different things—such as regional television.

The committee meeting touches off the conference's four-day parley that will be climaxed Friday by a joint session of athletic directors and faculty representatives.

The TV committee's report to the directors and faculty members is expected to reaffirm the stand on regional football television as opposed to the NCAA's nationally restricted policy. How far the Big

In the extra three minutes, Shanahan hit two free throws for Routt but Hunter and Buckles dumped in buckets for Elkhart and that was the ball game.

DeVore and Shanahan paced the scoring for Routt with 15 and 14 respectively. Yard, Elkhart pivot man, opped all scorers for the evening with 18 points. The center fouled out in the fourth quarter.

Little Mo's Suggestion Brings Groans From Men

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Maureen Connolly's suggestion that tennis museummen like Tony Trabert and Lew Hoad take ball lessons brought horrified groans from the Davis Cup stars Tuesday.

Little Mo, the world ruler of women's tennis, demurely pointed out that the ballet would improve the players' agility on the court.

"Gripes" scowled American net star Trabert. "The next thing they'll be suggesting is that we wear lace panties like Gussie Moran. And with these legs of mine."

Arenzville Tops Roodhouse 64-41

ROODHOUSE—(Special)—Arenzville and Roodhouse battled it out on even terms the first half but the visitors pulled away in the third quarter to defeat the hosts 64-44 here last night.

The score at halftime was 24-24 but Roodhouse lost the services of two of their starters in the third period and the Arenzville Raiders went on to win rather easily.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ran through a period of selling Tuesday then closed higher in a final rally.

Irregularity throughout marked the course of the session, and it was difficult at times to detect the market's overall direction.

Gains amounted to $2 to $4 in several instances. Losses, at one time rather large, finally were confined to between $1 and $2 at the outside in key areas.

Right at the opening there was a surge ahead of prices. In the second hour, however, profit taking appeared in a mild way and spread throughout the market.

Selling was taken in stride and never menaced market stability. In the final hour, improvement began gradually. It gained speed as it went along with prices stepping higher.

Railroads were the rally point for the market at the close. Most other major divisions had a hand in the rise. The motors and aircrafts, however, were indifferent and ended mixed at the worst.

Brokers reported that war scare rumors floated around the boardrooms of brokerage houses in Wall Street about the time the rally got started. It was noted, however, that many so-called war babies didn't respond. One source said the rumor concerned a Red Chinese attack on the Nationalist island of Formosa.

The Associated Press average of 50 stocks advanced 40 cents at $150.80, a level equal to Sept. 28, 1929. The alltime high for the market was $157.70 on Sept. 3, 1929.

New highs were set by the three components of the average. Industrials were up 70 cents at $250.80, railroads gained 30 cents at $115.80, and utilities were higher by 20 cents at $68.30.

Volume came to 3,820,000 shares as compared with 3,960,000 shares traded Monday.

Trading was heavy on the American Stock Exchange with 1,210,000 shares changing hands as compared with 1,070,000 shares traded Monday.

GRAIN PRICES RISE ON ACTIVE MARKET

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—A late rally left a majority of grain futures with gains on the Board of Trade Tuesday. Dealings were quite active throughout the session.

The rally carried soybeans and old crop wheat contracts from the minus to the plus column. It enabled corn to reduce most of its decline. Oats were firm throughout the day in what brokers thought was a technical rally after recent weakness.

Wheat closed 1/4 lower to 1/8 higher, corn 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, oats 1 to 1 1/4 higher, rye 1 1/2 higher, soybeans 1/2-2 1/4 higher and lard 5 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower.

There was a real pickup in export business overnight, a fact which aided all cereals. Great Britain bought a little red wheat and Norway took 700,000 bushels, half red wheat and half hard wheat.

July and September wheat ended lower, although much above the lows they set early in the trade. Selling was pegged on a Weather Bureau forecast for rain or snow in a good section of the winter wheat belt over the next five days. The moisture is dearly wanted.

Final prices in soybeans were three to four cents above the day's lows. The rally appeared to represent short covering as it was not based on any news development. Sale of 200,000 bushels of soybeans to Japan and a small quantity to Denmark was known prior to the opening.

What effect McCarthy's course might have on the fortunes of the Republican party only the future could determine. But Flanders, a McCarthy adversary, said it meant that McCarthy has "declared political war—he wishes a split."

"It will be most interesting," Flanders continued, "to see who the senator's allies in this war are. He must have allies. It is not conceivable that the senator is fighting this war as a lone wolf."

McCarthy's attack came in the form of a prepared-in-advance statement which he read at a meeting of his investigations subcommittee. It is currently receiving testimony on Communists in defense jobs.

McCarthy, to the applause of some of the spectators in the hearing room, declared: "I find that the President, on one hand, congratulates the senators who hold up the work of our committee and on the other hand urges that we be patient with the Communist hoodlums who, as of this very moment, are torturing and brainwashing American uniformed men in Communist dungeons."

Last Sunday the President commended Sen. Watkins for a "very splendid job" as chairman of the Senate committee which recommended McCarthy for his conduct. The Senate condemned, 67-22, McCarthy's conduct on two counts—that he obstructed a Senate committee's work in 1951-52 and insulted fellow senators.

McCarthy said Tuesday he felt he should apologize for telling the people in 1952 that election of an Eisenhower administration would mean "a vigorous, forceful fight against Communists in government."

The White House replied, by calling reporters' attention to the President's remarks of last Thursday about the imprisonment of 11 American airmen by Red China. He said then he felt outraged but counseled against letting America be goaded into acts of war. He specifically rejected the idea of a blockade of Communist China, something advocated by both McCarthy and Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader.

Also, the White House cited Justice Department reports on accomplishments of the administration in its campaign against domestic Communists. These reports said an impressive record has been achieved "quietly and relentlessly... under due process of law."

Comment on McCarthy's statement: Sen. Welker (R-Iowa), who was a floor manager for McCarthy in the recent Senate fight:

"I hardly think it is necessary for the chief executive to be warmly congratulating anyone in this very unfortunate matter. In this political trial, and that is all it was, the 96 senators were the judges. The 160 million Americans were the judges of the trial of McCarthy, which in my opinion blew up in the face of the author of Senate Resolution 301 and those who offered amendments. McCarthy stands vindicated before the jury of the American people."

PRISCILLA'S POP

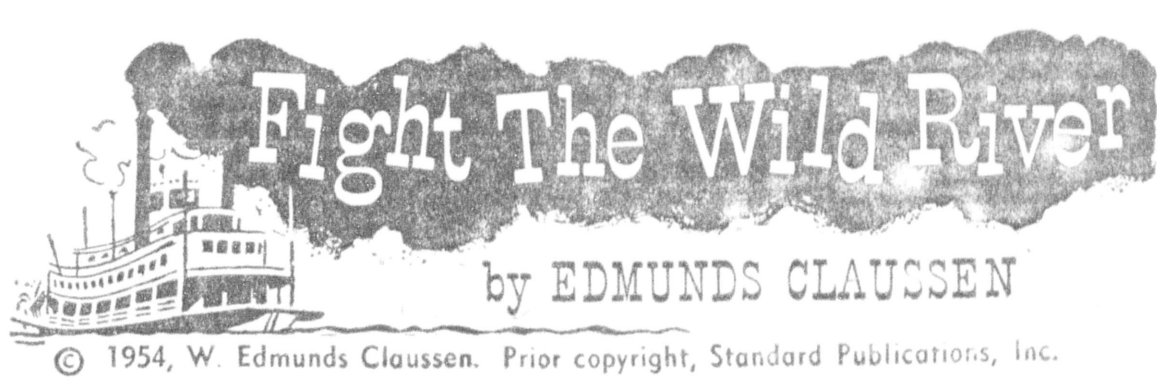

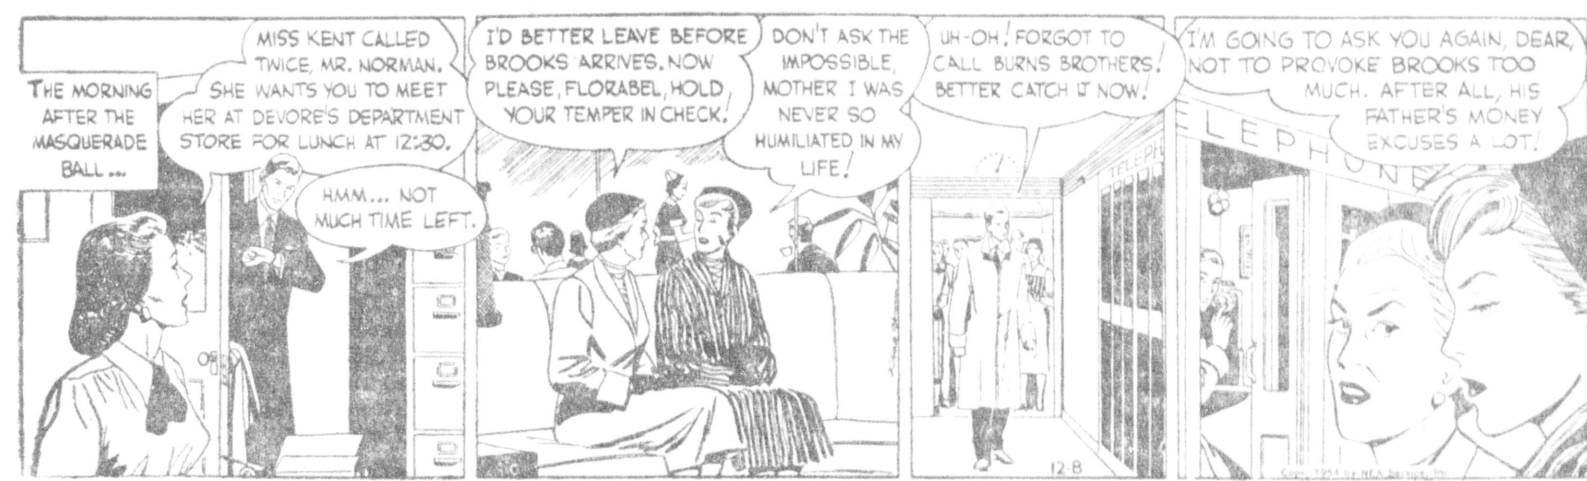

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

By CHARLES DICKENS

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

By WILSON SCRUGGS

THE STORY: Capt. Irving Croch of the riverboat General Heath operated up the Colorado River, carrying miners and supplies during the gold rush of the early '60s. He had more passengers than room and Captain Croch sometimes fought them off. Aboard is a young miner named Cal Dreyfus, who battled for his passage.

THE link Pennsylvanian wiped the stain of a bloody fist from his cheek. Frowning darkly, his words were sharp. "When a man asks for it he's got an honest answer comin'." "You've got your rights," Croch consented. For the time being they were alone and Dreyfus turned his talk into another channel. "Something you might not know about La Paz. My claim's back in the hills where the crowd's not yet found its way. Plenty of ore in the Hassayampa country. This placer gold's only the first excitement."

Croch gave him a scrutinizing look, knew Dreyfus was repaying a favor. "I figured on that," he admitted. "It's so, Captain. When they stumble on the real thing you'll be haulin' steady pay cargoes. Sugar Logan's new mill won't be big enough."

Now two of the Cocopah deckhands arrived, too late to join the fighting, and Croch murmured, "Thanks for telling me, Dreyfus." His Indian deckhands were dressed merely in breech-clouts and carried four-foot lengths of firewood from the bunkers, a wild crew when they got to fighting. Croch made a gesture with his hand toward the gangplank, signaling they were to run it out to the river bank. It was time to allow those ashore who were hungering for pleasure.

Dreyfus was the first to climb down the gangplank. Slyly, then, Croch offered his friendly warning, a glint touching his eye. "A man can get in trouble in Yuma. Be careful!"

But Dreyfus gave him a sober look. "None of them trollops for me. It's Queenie's pastry shop." "So it's Queenie, eh? Well, they say nobody can teach a man new ideas better than a young widow."

There was a bond between these two that went deeper than political convictions. Both loved this new land of their adoption, both understood it, even as they understood each other.

Croch's remark had caused Dreyfus to chuckle good-naturedly as he moved down the plank. "Wouldn't know about that, Captain. If she's got something new, it ain't showed up yet."

A SHORT time later Croch saw the slim figure of his agent coming up the single-file pathway from Yuma. The man was not hurrying but there obviously was a tenseness of purpose about him. Croch waited beside the rail, sensing in some mysterious manner that Modest had a message for him beyond the ordinary. Those machinery crates they had loaded would bear explaining.

CAREFUL! KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (P)—Charles Starps loaded his .25-caliber pistol when he thought he heard a burglar in the house. He was treated at a hospital for a .25-caliber bullet wound in his left foot. Fernand Modest was an out-

The resolution grew out of a situation last Nov. 11 when numerous traffic tickets were issued while the city was observing Veterans Day, formerly called Armistice Day. The majority of stores remained open during the day.

At a previous meeting a councilman had proposed that the holiday plate be chiseled off the meters, so that the public would not be confused. Parking meter holidays at present include New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving, and Christmas.

Mayor Hoagland said the function of meters is to regulate parking, and that when business establishments were open the need for regulation existed. But he expressed himself as favoring a complete holiday on Veterans Day, which would not call for operation of meters.

The mayor said the first Veterans Day was accompanied by some misunderstanding—that stores in many cities remained open—but that he believes a more general observance of the holiday will iron out the difficulties encountered this year.

Legion's Resolution
The resolution adopted by the Legion Post and sent to the council follows:

WHEREAS: In the November 16th Edition of the Jacksonville Journal, in a report on our city council meeting of November 15th considerable discussion was held by the council as to the fact as to whether or not Veterans Day being a legal holiday in the sense that parking meters could be used without depositing a coin as on six other National Holidays specified by the council (omitting February 22nd, birthday anniversary of George Washington) and

WHEREAS—History now records the fact that over one million able bodied men have given their lives in the defense of our country since its birth in 1776 in order that our beloved Country may remain free, and

WHEREAS—great numbers of our citizens in the mad rush to attain the material things of life are prone to forget the sacrifices made by these men who have died in previous wars, and

WHEREAS—Jacksonville Post 279 of the American Legion feels that the Jacksonville City Council is about to take action striking almost the last vestige of a holiday from this hallowed date from a list of parking meter holidays, now

BE IT RESOLVED—That Jacksonville Post 279 of the American Legion do hereby ask that the members of the city council before taking action regarding ceasing to recognize Veterans Day as a Holiday on parking meters, that each member of our council humbly and reverently search his own soul for the right action he should take before casting his vote, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be spread on the minutes of this meeting and a copy of same be delivered at once to the city council and a copy to the local press.

Offer State Hospital Vets With No Funds Gifts For Families

This Christmas as in the past six years veterans of the Jacksonville State Hospital, who have little or no compensation, will have the privilege of obtaining gifts to send to their families. This program, provided only for men and women with little or no finances, is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary units.

The seventh annual Veterans Gift Shop will open at 1 p. m. on Thursday, Dec. 9, in the Veterans School at the Jacksonville State Hospital. According to Mrs. Audra Livensood, hospital chairman for the American Legion Auxiliary area serving the Jacksonville State Hospital, veterans the room will take on a holiday atmosphere with the many beautiful gifts offered veterans to choose from. There will be gifts for small children, boys and girls up to 18 years of age, and for mothers, fathers and wives.

In Christmas Wrappings
There are 14 such shops in the State of Illinois where veterans are hospitalized, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. The gifts are wrapped in gay Christmas paper, complete for mailing, including the postage. Many a veteran's family has been made happy by receiving a gift from their father, husband or son and the veteran has the satisfaction of sending a gift home through this program.

Auxiliary officers within the state to be present Thursday include: Mrs. Ruth McKain of Chicago state president; Mrs. Kathryn Kendall of Wabeka, state gift shop chairman; Mrs. Thrilly Skinner of Jacksonville, third division president; and Mrs. Ada Adderton of Hardin, 20th district president.

Last year the 81,000 members of the American Legion Auxiliary in Illinois spent $7,246 for gifts. In the fifteen hospitals of the state where the shops are held 2,188 veterans selected the 4,377 gifts that were offered in this program. Each year members of the Jacksonville American Legion unit 279 volunteer to help conduct the Gift Shop.

This year the following members will help in the shop: Mrs. Frances Barger, Frances Allen, Louise Slagle, Irene Vernon, Elizabeth Doolin, Louise Robinson, Margaret Perry, Triby Skinner, Marie Shields, Edna Daly, Dorthea Woods, Frances Davis, Margaret Holt, Hazel Ward, Battle Palgrave, Lela Underbrink. Members of the Post 279 who will help are Glenn Skinner, Robert Reed and Lloyd Slagle.

Help Vet Select Gifts
Some of the women will help the veteran select his gift, others will be needed to wrap the gifts. There will be over 200 gifts selected and mailed this year from the Jacksonville hospital. During the Christmas season all veterans at the hospital are remembered by the American Legion Auxiliary with gifts of cigarettes and candy. Also at Easter with a special personal gift.

During the year, starting in January, a birthday party is given each month for all having birthdays during the respective month. The day of the party each veteran is given a package of cigarettes at his supper hour. The American Legion Auxiliary units in the 20th district which includes Jacksonville furnish cigarettes at other times during the month.

The Auxiliary units that have plans for parties in 1955 are: January, Chapin unit; February, Tallula; March, Jacksonville 253; April, Palmyra; May, Virginia, June, Springfield unit No. 809; July and August, Jacksonville unit 279; September, Cahoon 636; October, Bluffs; November, Ashland, and in December of next year all units will provide for the distribution of gifts on Christmas morning to the veterans.

Council Urges State To Approve Signals For Morton At Diamond

Seven accidents in which one person was killed and 11 injured have occurred at the West Morton avenue and Diamond street intersection within the past several months, Alderman Harry Merriman told the city council Monday night in urging that the Illinois Division of Highways approve automatic traffic signals for the intersection.

Referring to the death of Lloyd Magill on Sunday, the alderman said a number of other collisions have occurred at the intersection which were not recorded. Pointing out that the Division of Highways once refused to authorize a stop light at Morton and Diamond, Merriman declared that it will continue to be a hazard until lights are installed.

Mayor Hoagland and other councilmen joined Merriman in his movement to bring about installation of traffic lights at the dangerous crossing, similar to the signals now in use at Morton and South Main. All that is needed is approval by the state highway department—the signals would be paid for with motor fuel tax funds—councilmen said.

State Controls Routes
The mayor explained that the state highway department controls the state highway routes through all the municipalities. He said that when the city first requested stop lights at Morton and Diamond, one of the reasons the state department gave in refusing the request was that "there haven't been any accidents at the intersection."

Hoagland said the growing list of collisions shows that automatic signals are definitely needed. The mayor ordered a resolution to be prepared and presented at the next meeting.

Continuing his discussion of additional traffic safeguards, Mayor Hoagland told the council he believes the West State and Church street intersection should be protected with automatic lights, due to the heavy traffic in the high school and church district. He said West State street is on the lists of streets to be resurfaced, and that the installation of lights could be timed with resurfacing operations.

No Tax For Bonds
The council passed a resolution on motions by Alderman Merriman and Chumley, directing the county clerk not to extend a tax for the taxable year 1954 pursuant to Ordinance No. 735.

The county clerk previously had been instructed to extend for 1954 a tax sufficient to produce $67,106.25 for interest and principal up to and including Jan. 1, 1956, on the waterworks improvement bonds. The city now has on hand sufficient funds derived from revenues of the waterworks system to take care of the interest and principal of the bonds.

City Clerk John R. Phillips submitted his report for the past month, showing collections of $6-

834.55 last month. The largest item of revenue was $3,460.70 from sewage maintenance. The sum of $1,597.67 was realized from the city cigarette tax.

A communication from Kenneth Ward, representative of the 40 and 8, asked permission of the council to place the organization's locomotive on the east side of the square Saturday, Dec. 11, during a tag day. Funds from the tag day will be used for Christmas charity. On motions by Aldermen Chumley, seconded by Alderman Merriman, the request was granted.

A resolution put through on motions by Aldermen Merriman and Chumley authorized transfer of $20,370.16 from Road District 14 fund to the general fund.

New City Maps Arrive
Alderman Harris Rowe of the judiciary committee announced the arrival of a supply of city maps showing the redistricted voting precincts and wards, which will be effective at the spring primary election. Rowe said these maps are available at the offices of the city clerk and county clerk.

A large map of the city will be printed in the Journal-Courier soon, showing the new setup of precincts and wards.

Lake Jacksonville lost three-quarters inch last week, Alderman Kelly reported. He said the present stage of the once 56 lake is 14 feet, 8 1/2 inches under spillway level.

Progress On Pipe Line
Alderman Baker presented a report by Casler & Stanipen, consulting engineers, showing progress on the 23 mile water transmission line from the Illinois river at a point near Naples.

Price Brothers of Dayton, Ohio, are stringing 24 and 30 inch prestressed concrete pipe between the well location and the bluff at the present time. The pipe manufacturer has thus far delivered 6.12 miles of pipe.

The Torson Construction Co. of Kansas City, Mo., had installed 4,603 miles of pipe up to Dec. 3, which is a 20.59% completion of the contract. Thirty-five working days have been charged against the contractor under the 170 days completion clause.

At the well north of Naples the Ramsey Water Supply Co. of Dayton, Ohio is dewatering the caisson and making preparations for jacking out the horizontal laterals, which is expected to start early this week.

112 See Garden Club Decorating Exhibits

One hundred and twelve women thoroughly enjoyed the instructive program on Holiday Decorations for the Home and the festive atmosphere created by the many lovely displays exhibited in connection with the program presented Saturday at the December meeting of the Morgan County Garden club held at the Youth Center on West State street. A number of guests were present.

They included Miss Minnie R. Green, Mrs. Fred Deatherage, Miss Mary E. Walters, Patty Coughlin, Mrs. Ira Allen, Mrs. Howard Craig, Mrs. Mary Barnhart, Margery Robertson, Mrs. Grace F. Smith, Mrs. Ella Staake and Mrs. James B. Swain.

The meeting was conducted by the club president, Mrs. Eugene Dodsworth who called for orders followed by the pledge to the flag and the secretary and treasurers' reports.

In the absence of Mrs. Harold Stewart, Mrs. Merl Kearns served as chairman for the day. Miss Charlotte Sieber, music chairman, presented Mrs. Margery Robertson, soloists, who favored the group with "Jesu Bambino," "Christmas Song" and "Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head." She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Harold Wessler.

Mrs. Mildred Seeman presented the timely and fascinating program for the afternoon demonstrating many attractive ways for decorating the home, table, windows inside and out, mantels and doors for the holidays. A clever and attractive display was the fresh fruit dipped in wax and placed on a tray. Also eye-catching was a large silver bowl filled with colored tree ornaments, an old fashioned cake plate gaily trimmed with ornamental beads festooned about the edge and piled high with fruit or cookies.
